THE FORLORN HOPE.

It is understood that the list of subscriptions for the Patriotic loan will be kept open until Saturday evening. The vultures who expect to prey upon the carcase of the Republic are jubilant, because the loan does not yet reach half the required amount. Nevertheless the remaining days of this week may see a decided movement on the part of some of the wealthy landowners and houseowners of Buenos Ayres to avert the coming catastrophe.

We regret to say that up to the present the millionaires of our city, with one or two exceptions, have held aloof from the subscription. We could make out a list of 200 nabobs, who possess half the wealth of the Republic and whose names are not to be found in the Patriotic Loan. If Curso Forzoso be decreed the blame will lie in a great measure on these men, who see that the country is in a moment of extreme peril and feel perfectly unconcerned. Some of them have ridiculed the Patriotic Loan as utterly inadequate to meet the exigencies of the time, and point to the fact that the President of the Republic proposes as an alternative to issue shinplasters up to double the amount, without giving us any assurance that another emission may not be called for in the course of the present year. If this is to be the future of Argentina, one issue after another, and Curso Forzoso besides, we do not hesitate to say that the result will be much worse than Dr. Pellegrini can anticipate.

Meantime the National Government has given a solemn pledge that if the present loan be subscribed there will be no further issue, no Curso Forzoso. We must take the President at his word, and leave no stone unturned to avert the tremendous calamity which threatens to involve Buenos Ayres in wholesale ruin.

The Patriotic loan is a forlorn hope. It is the last effort to save us from the complete "bouleversement" which Curso Forzoso must entail, and if this supreme effort prove ineffectual we may raise a funeral slab over the Republic with the inscription "Hic Jacet."

JOHN LAW.

The calamity brought on France by John Law was the most tremendous that can be imagined; it has no parallel in history except the present crisis in Buenos Ayres. But in many respects Law's crisis was less disastrous than that which has now commenced in our city, the outcome of which nobody can venture to predict. Law issued uncovered paper-money to the amount of 1,900 million francs or 380 million dollars. If Pres. Pellegrini's project be approved we shall have exactly the same amount of paper-money, namely 280 millions of the present shin-plasters and 100 millions of "metallic notes."

The coincidence is striking, but it must be remembered that Law's paper-money was for 30 millions of people, or nearly 10 times the population of the Argentine Republic. The damage, therefore, that he caused to France was very much less than the proposed new issue of shinplasters is likely to cause in our community. But this is not all. We have no security that there may not be a fresh issue of 100 million "metallic notes" six months hence, to be followed by another in 1892, and so on.

If Argentine statesmen really believe that they can issue notes at will, which Mr Uriburu very properly designates as "forced loans," they will find that they are sadly mistaken. We must come, some day, to a grand wind-up, and the convulsion that must ensue will eclipse anything before seen in the world. Men and women will go mad in the streets, and no Government will be able to face the hurricane of popular indignation.

We take from a book of reference the following particulars concerning John Law, which may be instructive:—

"Law accepted the Government bills at par. He believed that in the absence of money credit was everything, on a basis of paper-currency. He issued 1,600 million francs (or 320 million dollars), and an extraordinary fever of stock-gambling ensued, the price of land near Paris rising to the value of 100 years' purchase. But the decrease in specie and the constant issue of Government notes, up to an amount of 1,925 millions, soon brought a crash. Law became a fugitive and died in a hospital at Venice."

We cannot resist the wish to send all our shinplaster advocates to Venice, to end their days in obscurity, like Law. It is only fair to Law's memory to say that he admitted the error of his theories before his death, and regarded shinplasters as a calamity of the greatest magnitude.

WHAT IS THE MAXIMUM?

Before we have any fresh issues of shinplasters it would be well to consider for a moment whether the supply is to be increased year after year, or whether there is a maximum not to be exceeded. If President Pellegrini's project were to be carried out we should have in circulation a sum equal to 480 millions of actual currency. This is a very large amount, and yet President Pellegrini has assured us that he is "totally opposed to fresh issues."

His Excellency has only a few months of office remaining, and may be succeeded by somebody who will inform us that he is "totally in favor of fresh issues." In that case we should probably soon see the amount of paper money doubled. This compels us once for all to ask: "What is the maximum of shinplasters that the Republic can support?"

The demands of the Upper Provinces must be taken into account, besides those of the State Banks, the Government of Buenos Ayres, the pressing requirements of the hour etc. In view of all this it may become the duty of Congress to declare that One thousand millions is the maximum, and that under no circumstances can the paper money of the Republic exceed that sum.

If we could only know once for all where the system of shinplasters is to stop we could make up our minds to the worst. The present method of issues yearly, or oftener, leaves us in a lamentable state of uncertainty.

In 1776 the French currency went so low that a pair of boots cost 20,000 francs.

THE SITUATION.

Excitement ran very high in the market yesterday, and a very uneasy feeling prevailed in all quarters, in spite of the favorable progress of the so-called Patriotic Loan. There is a certain lack of confidence in the public, and this distrust can be traced to the propaganda of the official journals which deride the loan and urge the Government to avail of the present panic to sign a fresh decree of "curso forzoso" and thus enable debtors to defraud creditors. It is assumed that the official journals speak the wishes of the Government, and hence the anxious frame of mind in all circles: it is supposed that the Government does not much relish the Patriotic Loan which it regard as a kind of imposition to avert further issues of paper money and other ruinous expedients.

The alarm in the market was aggravated by the fact that, contrary to all expectations, the Patriotic Holidays continued yesterday. Everybody, at an early hour, expected to see the Banks and the Bolsa resume the normal march of business, but the note of the Financial Sub-Secretary removed all doubts in the matter and another day was lost, to the intense disgust of the whole market. To make matters worse, a rumor ran round at noon that the Government intended extending the holidays till next Saturday. As a matter of fact no business was transacted yesterday; not a single transaction was reported in the produce markets, and everything remained at a stand-still, in the midst of gloom and dissatisfaction. Only a year ago we laughed at the financial holiday subterfuge of our Oriental neighbors; they may well exclaim "Rire bien qui rira le dernier." To-day, however, business will be resumed, the banks and the Bolsa will be opened.

Another fruitful cause of alarm was the report that many arrests were made on Wednesday evening by order of the President of the Republic who, during the state of siege, is invested with extraordinary powers. The names of several people arrested were mentioned, but none of any notoriety. There was also a rumour that the police had seized a fair quantity of war materials the same night. We give these facts, not that they in any manner affect the market, but some people appear only too willing to exaggerate them to produce a temporary impression on the susceptible public. There was, however, a very favorable rumour in the market regarding politics, and it was announced that the coalition of the elements of the two great political parties in the country is now a foregone conclusion: this report was very favourably received.

At two o'clock it was known that the Patriotic Loan had reached the respectable amount of forty millions, that is to say nominal amount in Patriotic Bonds, or signatures for thirty millions in money. It appears that the lists were swelled by the subscriptions of Baron Rothschild for a half million and of the Great Southern Railway Co. for half a million. The banks, the Bolsa, and the 'Caja de Conversion' were all day thronged with people subscribing to the loan. Here we may mention that the names of many well-known capitalists, estancieros, etc. are missed on the list daily published by the press; this is partially explained by the fact that the lists of names at the Banks are not published "in extenso". For the benefit of all the "beneméritos de la patria" all the names should be published with the utmost "religiosity."

Once the Patriotic Loan reaches forty millions the National Government is under a moral obligation of accepting the disinterested tender of the public; the amount is more than sufficient for the pressing needs of the situation, not to say quite plainly of the Provincial Bank. The Government cannot beg the question; the President must abide by his declaration and accept the loan as a solution of the difficulty of the moment. Yet, there is a lingering doubt in the public mind—certainly no compliment to the Government—and there are many who still apprehend that the Government will try to back out and resort to fresh issues of paper. Under the circumstances, however, such an eventuality is out of the question, and the Government is no doubt quite convinced in this regard, in spite of mental reservations for the future.

It is quite evident that the market has defeated the Government which cherishes an inclination for "curso forzoso", as proved by the unfortunate scheme of the Executive and the shifting speech of the President. The Patriotic Loan is a terrible public protest against any such legislation and fresh issues of paper money, but—there is always a but—the query rises—How long will the Patriotic Loan stave off the reckoning? It is an open secret that the money is required to save the Provincial Bank. Notwithstanding balance-sheets and other official publications the market has been accustomed to read and study, it was known yesterday for a certainty that the deposits in the Bank amount to 152 million dollars: this figure will be news to the public, but it is the correct amount according to the most authoritative statement.

The Provincial Bank must be now prepared to meet a terrible and steady drain on its deposits: the money of the Patriotic Loan and whatever sound bills the Bank may have running in the market will enable it to weather the gale for some time: furthermore, the heavy depositors have pledged themselves not to withdraw their deposits: but in these matters, all sentimentality is out of the question, and the stern fact is that the public will liquidate the bank. This is the reality of the situation and there is no use of disguising it, and we greatly fear that unless timely measures are taken to meet the emergency of liquidation another Patriotic Loan will be required before the middle of the year. These timely measures must be suggested by a special committee to audit the portfolio of the Bank and see how much of same can be considered good, how much bad.

The auditing of the Bank should be carried out by a committee of the members of the Caja de Conversion, and the "weeding out" process will establish the real merit of the case and show the public how the bank really stands. It may happen that the gravity of the Bank's situation has been grossly exaggerated; it may be that the Banks's assets are still very large; it may happen that the report of such an auditing committee will restore confidence, but, let it be remembered, in the absence of any such authoritative report, the Bank must be prepared to face the worst in the shape of a steady drain of deposits, in fact a liquidation enforced by the very instinct of the public; here we may add that sooner or later, the people will liquidate all the State Banks if the Government do not care to undertake the task.

IRELAND.

Recent advices announce the election of V. Rev. Dr. McLaughlin as coadjutor Bishop of Elphin, to assist the esteemed prelate, Dr. Gillooly, who built the present beautiful cathedral of Sligo. There were six candidates, but the majority of votes was given to Dr. McLoughlin, who acted as administrator of the diocese when Dr. Gillooly was called away to Rome, and who enjoys the best wishes of all classes in Sligo.

MONTEVIDEAN FINANCES.

We are to have no fresh taxes at present, that is presumably, until a fresh deficiency is discovered in the estimates. The Government is of opinion that the balance of the Budget can be maintained with the present taxes and has sent a Message to the Chambers withdrawing certain schemes laid before them last year for additional taxes, and which had not yet been reported upon in committee. Perhaps the Message was a trifle superfluous, for almost the same taxes were embodied in the Law of January 12 last. However, it is satisfactory to read the declaration of Government that the limit of taxation has been reached for the present, and we congratulate the new Minister of Finance upon his name first appearing officially in connection with this document. By all means let us have no more taxes.

We have just had the clear declaration that the Budget would be sufficiently balanced without the imposition of further taxes. We have also had the statement that the new Ministers intend making further considerable economies in the estimates or administrative expenses. The latter is not exactly official and may perhaps be fathered by the wish, or may be due to the zeal proverbially attributed to "new brooms." Anyhow, there is no doubt that the estimates are capable of considerable compression. Another half million or more might be knocked off the Army estimates with the greatest advantage, and the monstrous pension lists and some retrenchments in the other departments might account for another half million. Altogether then we think it is quite possible to make a reduction of about one million dollars in the forthcoming Budget. And as we have it authoritatively stated that the Budget is balanced without this reduction, the million thus economised should afford a large margin for the reduction of the present overpowering taxes and duties, and first of all, of the recently re-imposed duties on exports, which, we are assured on all sides, are having a most deadly effect on the productive energies of the country. In fact, we have every reason to think that a restoration of the duties and taxes to the standard of some eight months ago—more than high enough even then—would imply a very small reduction in the revenue, certainly nothing approaching what might be met by the suggested economies. As we have had many occasions to argue and prove, these additional taxes, when carried beyond a certain point, merely crush commerce and industry without producing the calculated increase in the revenue. All the duties imposed in the last six months, including those of exportation, have failed to raise the Customs revenue to the level of the same months in the two preceding years, whilst there can be no doubt whatever of their mischievous effect upon business. When the crisis first burst upon us, business fell for a time into a lethargic state. It is now making valiant efforts to regain some of its former activity, but it finds itself checked and checkmated at every turn by the extra burdens imposed just at the time when the previous burdens should have been lightened. Especially is this true in reference to national industries and produce. In fact, over-taxation is the preponderant cause which is now preventing a revival of trade. If the new Ministers would only turn their attention to this and make all practicable reductions in the administrative expenses with the ulterior view of reducing the present monstrous rate of taxation, they would do more towards reducing the crisis and reviving the country than any twenty loans.

The Message already referred to saves us from one calamity, namely, the raising of the 'patente' or license on transatlantic steamers to $200 for the round journey. The present license of $90, imposed alike on steamers with packet privileges and those without, is found excessive. If the port is being killed by the present fees and duties, what would happen to it with such an increase as was threatened here? Thisonly shows the utterly reckless way in which the governing powers propose new imposts without ever stopping to consider the effect of the same upon commerce. We have no hesitation in saying that if this new tax had been imposed the increase in the revenue would not have represented one-fifth part of the loss entailed on the port generally. Some day, perhaps, the eyes of the governing powers will be opened, and they will then perceive that the people are not created for the sole purpose of being taxed to supply administrative waste or dishonesty. There are limits beyond which even a sponge cannot be squeezed.—Montevideo Times.

MONTEVIDEO.

A correspondent of El Bien of Montevideo gives the following account of the consecration of Monsignor Soler, which took place in the domestic chapel of the Colegio Pio Latino Americano, a splendid edifice of great architectural beauty which contained on the occasion not only all the pupils but a select number of friends specially invited. By a providential coincidence another pupil of the college, M. E. Duarte y Silva, who had been a fellow student of Dr. Soler, had made arrangements to be consecrated on the same day, which was the 8th of February, the august ceremony being performed by H. Eminence M. Perocchi, Cardinal Vicar of His Holiness.

At 8 a.m. H. Eminence the Cardinal entered the Church preceded by the bishop-elect and the assisting bishops, Dr Casanova, Archbishop of Guatemala, and Dr. Arcoverde, Bishop of Brazil, both being residents of the college and the latter a fellow student of the bishop about to be consecrated.

The august ceremony then began with all the imposing majesty that the Church lends to such acts. The Christian mind bows down with awe before the solemnity of the declarations in which the new bishops answer for the deposit of faith committed to their care; and it would be impossible to describe the sublimity of emotion that invades the minds of all who witness these imposing ceremonies in which the Church devolves the tremendous responsibility of episcopal state. The majestic rythm of the Litany of the Saints penetrates to the very depths of the soul at these solemn moments when the new bishops in abject prostration implore humbly the Divine Mercy. And again when the Church in its tender prayers evokes the memory of Moses and the high priest Aaron, recalling the recollection of Samuel the prophet anointing King David, then to the desert tents, the Holy Arc resplendent with its treasures of gold and precious stones; the Old Testament, in a word, with its figures and symbols gather life and passes in array before the minds of the faithful transported insensibly to the remotest ages. Such were the impressions experienced by me, and when I returned to myself it was to see our revered Prelate still prostrate in attitude of petition imploring the Divine Mercy whilst the Church amidst the Angelic strains of "Veni Creator Spiritus" anointed his hands with the Holy Oil which falling from Aaron's head bathed his face and the hem of his robe, and as the prophet Samuel did unto David, anointing and consecrating his hands with the oil of Health and chrism of holiness.

Next we witnessed the delivery of the Crozier and Episcopal ring, symbol of unquenchable faith, and the placing on the shoulders of the Holy Gospels with the exhortation to diffuse the Divine Word. Then came the offertory with the usual offerings prescribed by the Roman Ritual. Meantime the sacred ceremony of the Holy Mass was performed by the Cardinal assisted by all the bishops, and when the Pax Tecum and Communion were reached the bishops partook of the same Host and Chalice of Sacrifice, the occasion being so solemn and tender that many could scarcely refrain from tears. At the benediction and reception of the Mitre, gloves and episcopal ring, we were reminded again of Moses and Aaron, and the majestic figure of Jacob with his hands covered with skins imploring from his father Isaac the blessing of the first-born.

Then they were taken by the Church and seated on the throne their heads crowned with the sacred mitres which shone like the rays that darted from Moses's head when he came down from Sinai. Who after such an impressive ceremony could withhold from manifesting to the King of Kings and Lord of Lords his liveliest feelings of gratitude. The Church meantime gave voice to its joy in the strains of Tedeum, during which the new bishops visited all the aisles, giving their benediction to all present. Returned to the altar, and after the Tedeum was finished, the new bishops rose intoning the Sit Nomen Domini Benedictus, and gave their first episcopal benediction. Then came the embrace and kiss of peace given by the new bishops to H. Eminence the Cardinal and the assisting bishops, with which the ceremony came to a close.

THE BACCARAT SCANDAL.

"A TRUSTWORTHY NARRATIVE"

The World of this morning refers at considerable length to what it describes as "The Baccarat Scandal," and gives what it describes as "a circumstantial, impartial and trustworthy narrative of the transactions which have occasioned so much social agitation, and of which so many misleading versions have been current."

"It will be in the memory of most people that in September a large party of guests, including the Prince of Wales, was entertained at Tranby Croft for the St. Leger week by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson. Baccarat was played on the evenings of the 8th and 9th. On the evening of the 10th, the party having returned from Doncaster, Mr. Lycett Green, who is a son-in-law of Mr. Arthur Wilson, reported to Lord Coventry that he had been informed by his brother-in-law, Mr. Stanley Wilson, that during the play on the evening of the 8th, he (Mr. S. Wilson) had observed cheating on the part of Sir William Gordon-Cumming, and that the nefarious conduct of the latter had also been noticed by Mrs. A. Wilson, the hostess of Tranby Croft. The malpractices detected, as stated, by Mr. S. Wilson consisted in the surreptitious increment of his stake by Sir William when a favourable card was turned up by the dealer, and the surreptitious diminution of his stake when an unfavourable card was exposed—the specific variety of cheating familiarly known on the Continent as the 'poussette.' It was agreed, Mr. Green proceeded to inform Lord Coventry, that other members of the party should watch Sir William's conduct on the night of the 9th, and this duty was undertaken by Mr. and Mrs. Green, and by Mr. Lovett, a brother officer of Sir William, with the result that all three testified to their detection of the same malpractice on Sir William's part which the two earlier witnesses had observed.

"Lord Coventry took Gen. Owen Williams into consultation in regard to a situation so serious and so complicated by circumstances. Their first step in combination was to hear Mr. Lycett Green repeat in detail the statement he had already made to Lord Coventry, to which that gentleman added that all the five persons who had watched were prepared to swear to the truth of their averments. Lord Coventry and General Williams concurred that it was imperative to lay the matter before the Prince of Wales, and agreed to urge on H.R.H. the extreme advisability of the injunction of absolute silence regarding the incident on the part of those cognisant of it, for the sake of all concerned, as well as in the interest of society at large; but that, as the condition of this silence, which would save him from unpleasant consequences, Sir William must sign an undertaking not to touch a card for the rest of his life. The Prince acceded to the representation on the part of Lord Coventry and General Williams that the solution of the complication suggested by them was a possible one.

PRINCE OF WALES'S ACTION.

"When Lord Coventry and General Williams had an interview with Sir William, and informed him of the accusation which had been brought against him with support of so great apparent strength, Sir William denied the charge with surprise and vehemence, and begged that he should have an audience of the Prince. H.R.H. consented to this, stipulating that Lord Coventry and General Williams should be present; and late in the evening the audience was accorded, when Sir William emphatically reasseverated his innocence of the blighting charge. After Sir William had withdrawn, the Prince saw Mr and Mrs Green, Mrs Arthur Wilson, Mr S Wilson, and Mr Levett (who had been the watchers), together with Lords E and A Somerset and Mr Reuben Sassoon, all of whom had become acquainted with the circumstances; and with them he listened to the verification of their allegations by the five persons who presented themselves as witnesses of the ascribed nefarious conduct. It was then pointed out what a terrible scandal would be the result of the divulgement of the incidents which had occurred, and how incumbent it therefore was to avert so deplorable an "exposé;" whereupon a conspiracy of silence was ratified, all present pledging themselves to secrecy, on the condition that Sir William should sign the undertaking whose nature has already been specified.

THE SIGNATURE OF THE DOCUMENT.

"Then it was that Lord Coventry and General Williams went to Sir William, explained to him the character and stipulation of the pledge which had been entered into, and required his signature to an undertaking that he would never again touch a card. In a crisis so abrupt and so overwhelming, suddenly dragged to the edge of an abyss so profound, the coolest and the bravest man might well lose his nerve, and take a panic of momentary pusillanimity.....Sir William signed the paper, which was subsequently signed by all the persons cognisant of the incident, which it was vainly hoped, was terminated by it, and the document was placed in the keeping of the Prince of Wales. Next morning the party broke up for a reason quite unconcected with the episode. The persons named are those of the guests at Tranby who were in the secret; the remaining guests, among whom were Lord Craven, Lord and Lady Brougham, and Mr Christopher Sykes, did not share in it.

THE COURT AT THE GUARDS'.

"The inevitable duly occurred. Long before the end of the year the scandal was the common property of the town. Just before Christmas, Sir William first learned by the receipt of an anonymous letter that the conspiracy of silence had aborted. Further evidence accumulated; whereupon he went to the colonel of the Guards Regiment to which he belongs, and told him everything. The colonel convened a court consisting of the five senior officers of the regiment, whose finding was that Sir William must send in his papers, not on account of the scandal, but on the narrower military ground of his non-compliance with the regulation that an officer whose honour has been impugned must immediately put himself in the hands of his commanding officer. Since the papers were sent in, action in regard to them has been suspended, in consequence of a formal account of the transactions at Tranby Croft having with some apparent malevolence been addressed to the Adjutant-General. Sir William's fate, as regards his commission, will presumably depend on the issue of the action for slander which he has commenced against his five accusers, and which, declining to be stampeded into quitting the country, he is resolved to persevere in to the bitter end.

SIR GORDON'S POSITION IN SOCIETY.

"The officer whom this scandal involves is (adds the World) the representative of one of the oldest and most honourable families of the North of Scotland. His estates are large, and, while not wholly unencumbered, yield a free income which places him quite beyond embarrassment. He has been a "persona grata" in the highest society for more than twenty years, and alike in civil and military life has been universally esteemed as a man of scrupulous honour, a staunch and loyal friend, a good comrade, and a sagacious adviser. No man is more popular in the fine regiment whose uniform he has worn so long. He has upheld its credit (as a volunteer) at Ulundi, where he was the first man into Cetewayo's kraal; in the Egyptian Campaign, and through the desperate fighting of Sir Herbert Stewart's glorious if futile desert march. Until this baleful scandal tainted the air there is not a man in society who would not have laughed in the face of anyone daring to aver that Sir William Gordon-Cumming was capable of a dishonorable act."

U. S. CORVETTE TALLAPOOSA.

GALLANTRY OF TWO SEAMEN.

On December 15th, 1890, one of the crew of the French steamship Belgrano, then in No. 2 Dock, went in swimming; becoming tired, and being unable to hold on to the rope that the men of the Belgrano tried to haul him aboard with, he swam for the U. S. S. Tallapoosa; before he could reach her he became exhausted and shouted for help. Henry P. Kirk, seaman apprentice first class, and Harry Stoetzel, seaman, both of that vessel, jumped overboard and swam to his assistance; they reached the drowning man before he sank for the last time, and skilfully seizing him by the back of the neck and shoulders, kept his head above water and swam with him to the Tallapoosa: he was kindly attended to and restored to consciousness by his rescuers, and he returned to his steamer thankful and grateful to them. Too much praise cannot be awarded to these gallant seamen who risked their lives to save an unknown man from drowning; and they well merit the praise and appreciation the Secretary of the United States Navy expresses in the following letter forwarded to them through his Captain, Commander Jas. M. Forsyth:—

Navy Department,
Washington, D. C.,
January 31st 1891

Sir,—

The Department desires to express its cordial appreciation of the gallant conduct of Henry P. Kirk, seaman apprentice first class, and Harry Stoetzel, seaman, serving on board the U. S. S. Tallapoosa as set forth in the following commendatory letter from the Commanding Officer:—

I am pleased to be able to bring to the notice of the Navy Department the gallant conduct of Henry P. Kirk, seaman apprentice first class, and Harry Stoetzel, seaman, both of this vessel, displayed in saving from drowning, on the evening of December 15, 1890, one of the crew of the French steamer Belgrano. The man, who was in bathing, became exhausted and would surely have lost his life, as he had already sunk twice; Kirk jumped overboard and swam to his assistance, followed immediately by Stoetzel. Together they sustained the man and brought him to the gangway of this vessel. I respectfully recommend that these men be given medals of honor for saving life.

This is not the first man Stoetzel has saved from drowning, and his numerous friends in Buenos Ayres as well as on board will be proud to see him wear the medal of honor so bravely won.

CRICKET.

WESTERN RAILWAY C.C. v. LA PLATA C.C.

The above match was played at Tolosa (Western Railway cricket ground) on the 8th inst., and resulted in an easy victory for the railway by 50 runs.

Play began at 1.30 and stumps were drawn at 5.30. For the visitors, Messrs. Gibbons, Holdaway and Lindop did most service for their side. For the home team, Messrs. Baker and Norman, and Messrs. Parkes and Attwood played well for their respective sides. The bowling of Baker was exceedingly good, taking 7 wickets for a few runs. Norman did good service with the ball, taking 3 wickets for 7 runs. A great number of people were present, taking a great interest in the game, which speaks well for the popularity of the new Club.

The tea at four o'clock was ably provided by Messrs. Hey and Baker, who were indefatigable in their endeavours to please everyone, and it seemed that everybody did good justice to their able catering.

Railway Items.

The report of the General Railway Inspection Office for the month of February notes the following defects:—

On the Pacific Railway, the line is somewhat bad between Kils. 62 and 69 and Kils. 72 and 82. Between Mercedes and Junin almost all the overflow drainage works have been suspended for 2 months. At various points between Kils. 126 and 128 the sides of the earthworks are destroyed. In general the Company is advised to exercise more watchfulness over its workmen, so as to prevent them from working at their own will, as at present.

On the Northern Railway there is much sluggishness in the erection of barriers.

The train service on the Argentine Great Western leaves much to be desired. Half of the trains arrive late in consequence of the bad state of the engines, the condition of the line and the delays at the various stations.

The train service on the Central Argentine has been much delayed in consequence of the bad state of the engines and the prevalence of strong winds.

The Ensenada line is proceeding very slowly with the erection of fencing.

The traffic on the East Argentine has notably increased since the opening of the North West Argentine. The line requires repairs at several points.

The Andine line, as also several of its bridges, stations and storehouses, is in bad condition.

The wiring on the Central Northern is in bad condition, and various defects are noted between Jesus Maria and Sarmiento and between Iriondo and Bella Vista.

The Central Entre Riano is in bad condition at various points, and more rolling stock is wanted.

The following details relating to the Transandine line may not be uninteresting. The connecting line between the Argentine Railway system at Mendoza and the Chilian at Santa Rosa is 240 kilometres long. It must be noted that, whilst the Argentine lines have a width of 1.65 and the Chilian of 1.41, the Transandine will be only one metre wide. Mendoza is 713 metres and Santa Rosa 825 metres above sea level, whilst the lowest summit of the Andes is 3740 metres; consequently the tunnels necessary will not only be numerous but extremely long, and will vary between 600 and 4900 metres below the mostly through hard rock, will be perforated by machines, the motive power of which will be electricity generated by dynamos which in their turn will be worked by water power, the Ferron being used in preference to the Brandt system.

Starting from Mendoza, the grades, in the first 134 kilometres, will not exceed 2 to 5 per 100, and no difficulty will be experienced in working this part of the line by the ordinary method. The remaining 106 kilometres, however, will have to be worked either in the ordinary way or by the Abt "cog" system. The rails will weigh 25 kilogrammes per metre where the ordinary system is to be used, and 28 kilogrammes per metre for the rest of the line.

Special locomotives, weighing 43 tons, capable of pulling loads of 70 tons up a grade of 8 in 100, will be employed on the "cog" section. On the other parts of the line, the locomotives will weigh 28 tons, and will be able to pull trains of 140 tons up grades of 2 to 5 in 100.

The earthworks are already finished for two thirds of the road, and the line is completed for 96 kilometres beyond Mendoza. It is expected that during the present year the line will be opened as far as the top tunnel which it is hoped will be finished in the course of 1893.

The petition of Messrs John G. Meigs Son and Company for a four months' extension of time for the conclusion of the works of the Central Northern Railway has been favorably reported on by the Railway Bureau.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

In spite of the crisis, daily bread-men came into town yesterday morning looking twenty years younger, thanks to the gifts of Jupiter Pluvius during the night; but many of them aged visibly again before noon when it became known that squads of armed policemen were on guard at the banks. As usual, the alarmists went to work with all kinds of rumours, but nothing whatever occurred, and the day wore away peacefully. The precaution was simply taken to prevent crowds collecting at the doors of the banks, as most of the population were under the erroneous impression that the establishments in question would resume business. In general there was in some quarters a more hopeful feeling, and the Gold Eagle sat blinking on the 340 peak.

The Brazilian crisis has begun already. The new Cabinet has resigned, and the gold premium shot up like a rocket. The Brazilian Rake's Progress is rapid.

In Montevideo they think of nothing but the reception of General Mitre and Bishop Soler, who are expected there on Monday. The whole population is expected to turn out on the occasion.

The Chilian warships Lynch and Condell have slipped out of the Docks, and are neither in the Roads nor in Montevideo, so it is supposed they are on their way to the West Coast.

Still they go. The Lavarello steamer sailing for Europe to-morrow takes 800 third-class passengers, 600 for Brazil.

No further news from Chile. The interest in Chilian affairs has fizzled here since last week, when our own troubles assumed an acute form. The interest in a fire next door vanishes when one's own residence is threatened.

The U. S. S. Pensacola, Captain A. Kautz Commanding, and bearing the Flag of Rear Admiral McCann, has arrived in Valparaiso. The Admiral went to Santiago to communicate with the U. S. Minister.

The mania for sending floral tributes to lay on the coffin of deceased friends has reached such an absurd height in England that a violent reaction has set in, and relief is looked for in the growth of the practice of adding to an announcement of a death the sensible intimation "No flowers." The next job, an old bachelor suggests, should be to reform the "little stranger" business, by adding "no baby" to christening invitations. "No baby," "no cards," "no flowers" would then mark the three milestones on the Road of Life.

The heat in Montevideo for the last ten days has been worse than here. Our English contemporary there says:—"Summer seems to be giving its last kick, and a long, warm and powerful kick it is." Until the welcome rain of Wednesday night, between the heat, the crisis and the hopes and fears of the Patriotic Loan, most of the citizens of this good city certainly wore a "more kicks than-half-pence" look, and wear it still, though the weather has cooled down to an ag

Mr. Wm. Kemmis, the well-known breeder of fine stock, writes as follows:—

Estancia Las Rosas,
F.C. Central Argentino,
10th Jan., 1891.

. . . I consider that no estancia which has any stock worth giving medicines to ought to be without these medicines.

The Gaseous Fluid is the very best colic medicine I have ever seen given to horses, and the Red Drench for any illness after foaling or calving or lambing is, I consider, splendid.

Yours truly,

ON 'CHANGE,

Thursday, March 12th.

The enthusiasm about the loan was still at the flood to-day, and the Committee calculate that the total now reaches the splendid figure of 35 millions, a truly grand result for three days. Furthermore, telegrams were received to-day from London, Paris and Berlin announcing adhesions, Rothschild alone giving 500,000 dollars gold, or say 1¼ millions paper, whilst from the Interior also advices were to hand, all to the same enthusiastic tenor. There can be no doubt that the opinion of the country is almost unanimously in favour of the loan, but as the amount collected is still inferior to requirements, it remains to be seen what will be the upshot. The general opinion seems to be that the Government will accept the loan as it stands, allow the lists to remain open, and reopen the Bolsa and the banks. Gold was done in the morning at 357, but was quoted at 351, sellers, at 4 p.m. Little or nothing, however, was done. At 5 p.m. gold was sold at 340.

The crops in Chivilcoy are calculated to be worth about 12 million dollars. The yield of wheat was 700,000 fanegas on 47,000 hectares sown, maize 900,000 fanegas on the 45,000 hectares sown, and potatoes 2,000,000 arrobes on 5000 hectares cultivated. From the maize crop about 10 o|o has to be deducted for losses caused by the locusts.

A telegram was posted on the Bolsa to-day, received by the Nacion from its London correspondent, as follows:—

"Result of internal loan looked upon here as the best proof of a reaction in the state of affairs. The Press regards it as highly creditable to the Republic."

The Minister of Finance received the following telegram to-day from Dr. Plaza:—

"London, March 11 (via Marseilles.)

"General bond published to-day. I forwarded the note to the leading firms which issued the loan, including a copy of the bond, advising them that payment will be effected according to law of Congress. The bond was well received. It would be advisable to depute a special section in the office to look after Morgan and Co's correspondence. Advise me of the amount subscribed for Internal loan in order that I may publish it. Rothschild and Co. of London subscribe 500,000 dollars."

It is said that Rothschild of Germany has subscribed 250,000 dollars towards internal loan.

The Contaduria General has advised the Government to approve the regulations sent in by the Chief of the Post Office and Telegraphs regarding post office orders.

At 5 p.m. the Bolsa was crowded with members anxious to hear the news from the Government House, as the fate of the market and the country depended upon the yea or the no from the presidential lips with regard to the Patriotic Loan. Mr. Urburu came down from the top parlour and in accents of fiery eloquence addressed the anxious crowd; he congratulated the country, the Government and the Bolsa on the wonderful success of the loan; the Bolsa, he said, had for a long time been considered the cause of all our financial afflictions, and in this hour of sacrifice it had proved the saviour of the Nation. (Tremendous cheers.) The Government, he said, had accepted the Loan, and allowed an extension of the term for subscription till Saturday evening. The crowd cheered vociferously, as this good news meant no further apprehension of fresh issue of paper money.

On Monday the Bonds of the Patriotic Loan will be quoted on 'Change. The list of subscriptions to the Patriotic Loan in the London and River Plate Bank showed a total of La Plata wheat to the extent of 26,000 qrs. is on passage, and there are 5000 qrs. coming from Chile. Australasia, with 263,000 quarters, is well represented for the time of the year. Average quantities of American flour are afloat, and there are also average expectations of Hungarian flour. From California considerable flour shipments were reported during January. Cargoes off coast equal 48,000 qrs. of wheat."

The Italian packet Umberto I. arrived in port to-day with 133 passengers and general cargo from Genoa.

The Montevideo Times says:—

"Within the last four days some nine or ten retail dealers or minor tradesmen have been declared bankrupt.

"Sres. Carlos Gschwindt and Juan Varesi have entered into partnership with the well-known jewellers Carassale Brothers. There will be no change in the title of the firm.

Messrs. Agar Cross & Co.

Dear Sirs,

I have great pleasure in reporting favourably of your "Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine." Up to date we have shorn upwards of 300 Lincoln Rams and Borregas, and find it quite up to our expectations. It is simple and easily handled, and in no way complicated or difficult to understand or work, and so far it has never been out of order. It shears the sheep beautifully it does them quicker and considerably better than it is possible to get them done by hand, and saves the poor animal a great amount of abuse.

I have timed our Amateur Shearer here, and find he can shear upwards of eight in the hour. Consequently, I consider the Wolseley Machine one of the best patents I have yet seen, in proof of which I intend having some more put up at an early date.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM RIDDICK.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's
CHLORODYNE.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Januar 5 1880. To J. T. Davenprt, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne,s Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery. Sapasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomitus of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years, In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of he Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defedant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d,. and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Brown's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
